

Bovis, Kyle & Burch Expands Family Law Practice

By August 15, 2012

On August 15, 2012, Bovis, Kyle & Burch was featured in the Daily Report for the expansion of the firm's Family Law practice. The firm added new partner, Erin Stone, and two new associates, Winfield Pollidore and Erica Byrd. In the article, Stone states that her attraction to Bovis, Kyle & Burch was the firm's growth in its Family Law practice, as well as her ability to draw on expertise from the firm's general practice groups. Pollidore, previously an IP and patent attorney, turned his talents to family law when he met Stone at a domestic relations mediation training and has practiced family law with her since. Byrd, who clerked for Bovis, Kyle & Burch, interned for the DeKalb County Child Advocacy Center and was a law clerk for DeKalb County Superior Court Judge Gregory Williams. For more information, the full press release can be found at <http://www.dailyreportonline.com/PubArticleFriendlyDRO.jsp?id=1202567463204>.