

BOVIS, KYLE, BURCH & MEDLIN ATTORNEYS ATTEND GRAND OPENING CEREMONY OF FORSYTH COUNTY COURTHOUSE

By March 17, 2015

On March 12, 2015 twelve attorneys from Bovis, Kyle, Burch & Medlin attended the dedication and ribbon cutting ceremony of the new Forsyth County Courthouse. Our Cumming, Georgia office is only a block from the new courthouse. The new building will be the place where all of our Forsyth hearings will be held, starting next week, and it is quite grand. Forsyth County is the most affluent county in the state of Georgia now.

Our attorneys interacted with many public figures including Superior Court judges from neighboring counties, the Mayor of Cumming H. Ford Gravitt, as well as Chief Justice Hugh Thompson, of the Supreme Court of Georgia, who spoke at the ceremony. We were also able to speak with a number of courthouse personnel during the tour of the new building. Our firm, by far, had the greatest presence of any law firm, and our young lawyers had the opportunity to speak with other young lawyers and staff attorneys.
