

Bovis Kyle hires new attorneys for Workers' Compensation and Surety practices

By April 16, 2013

Bovis Kyle is pleased to announce that three attorneys have recently joined the Firm. Ben Copeland and Jasmine Rice have joined the Firm's growing Workers' Compensation practice. Ben earned his J.D. degree from Mercer University in 2008, earning the CALI Award for Excellence in Legal Research during his time there. Jasmine Rice graduated from the University of Georgia School of Law in 2012. While in law school, Jasmine worked as a law clerk in the Georgia State Senate for two years.

Jared Heald, a 2007 honors graduate of the Georgia State University College of Law, joined the Bovis Kyle Fidelity and Surety practice group. He brings significant construction litigation experience and has written for and spoken to a number of construction industry trade groups during his years of practice.

Bovis Kyle welcomes these three professionals to the Firm and is excited to have them as part of our team.