

Bovis, Kyle, Burch & Medlin, LLC offers this website for the purpose of disseminating information about the firm and its practice. We do not intend to make representations about the quality of our services that cannot be measured or verified. Because any particular legal matter will involve facts and issues that cannot be anticipated, visitors to our website should not consider our information to be legal advice applicable to any specific matter. We neither solicit nor accept new attorney-client relationships over the Internet or by e-mail. You must call or visit our attorneys to discuss the specifics of your legal needs, how we can help, and our terms of engagement. Also, the Georgia Bar's ethical considerations disapprove of any suggestion that ingenuity or prior record, rather than the justice of a claim, are principal factors likely to determine the result.
