Bovis Kyle is excited to announce that Eric Connelly and Winfield Pollidore have been elevated to partners within the firm.

Eric joined Bovis Kyle in 2015 in our civil litigation and insurance coverage groups. He earned his law degree from Georgia State University where he was Associate Editor of the Law Review and competed on Moot Court. His BA degree is in journalism and political science from the University of Tennessee. He also has a Masters in Communication. Eric started as a journalist and PR professional before becoming a successful lawyer. We are happy to welcome him to the partnership.

Winfield joined Bovis Kyle in 2012 initially in the area of family law, but he now practices in the areas of civil litigation defense, insurance defense, and family law. Winfield is also a state-certified mediator and arbitrator in the areas of domestic relations and general ADR. He is also a registered patent attorney, counseling clients in the intellectual property area on patents, trademarks, and copyright. Winfield was born in Trinidad and Tobago, and he earned his BS degree in Mechanical Engineering from University of Michigan. He then got his MBA from Wayne State University before getting his law degree from Georgia State University. We are thrilled to welcome Winfield to the partnership.
