

Chang Zhou

Associate

Phone: 678-338-3917

E-Mail: czhou@boviskyle.com

Office Location:

Chang Zhou joined BKBM in 2023. Chang devotes her practice to providing legal representation for businesses and individuals involved in complex tort litigation across a variety of areas, including construction litigation, transportation, premises liability and professional liability defense. Before joining BKBM, Chang worked for a plaintiff's law firm in Atlanta handling cases involving catastrophic physical injuries. Her experience on both sides of the litigation allows her to strategize her moves based on her evaluation of the cases and provide efficient representation to her clients.

Chang also has experience representing clients in family law cases, including divorce, modification, child custody and support disputes, etc. As a native Mandarin speaker, Chang is willing to assist her family law clients, who sometimes come from a completely different cultural background and have never been involved in any legal proceedings in the United States, with her expertise and patience in achieving the best outcome for them through negotiation, mediation or trial and guide them into the new chapter of their life.

Professional or Trade Affiliations

- American Bar Association
- Tort & Insurance Practice Section of Georgia Bar Association
- Construction Law Section of Georgia Bar Association

Admitted to Practice:

- State of Georgia, 2021
- State of New York, 2021
- U.S. District Court, Northern District of Georgia, 2022

Practice Areas:

- Litigation/Tort Defense
- Construction Litigation
- Transportation
- Family Law

Education:

- J.D. Emory University School of Law, 2020
- Capital Medical University (China), 2017