

Edward Howden

Associate

Phone: (678) 338-3902

E-Mail: ehowden@boviskyle.com

Office Location: Atlanta

Ed is an Associate who joined Bovis, Kyle, Burch & Medlin after practicing as an Associate at a metro-Atlanta area firm that focused on eminent domain work and as a Consultant for an Atlanta area life settlement provider. Ed's practice currently focuses on eminent domain matters and real estate transactions for the City of Alpharetta and supports the Corporate Law department.

Ed earned his Juris Doctor degree from Emory University School of Law in 2015, where he was a Managing Editor of the Emory International Law Review and earned a Transactional Law Certificate.

Prior to attending law school, Ed served as a financial analyst valuing life insurance policies for settlement. He is happy to bring this analytical mindset to managing real estate and various other transactions. He is an Atlanta area native and enjoys spending time getting out in the city and following cryptocurrency and decentralized finance developments.

Admitted to Practice:

- Georgia, 2016

Practice Areas:

- State and Local Government
- Commercial Real Estate
- Corporate Law

Education:

- Emory University School of Law, Juris Doctor
- Georgia State University, Bachelor of Business Administration, Economics and Finance