A Traditional Liability Insurance Defense Practice

Since its inception, Bovis, Kyle, Burch & Medlin, LLC has devoted a major portion of its practice to defending insureds and self insureds in a traditional liability insurance defense practice. The firms lawyers have effectively defended parties ranging from individuals to small and large companies to major corporations such as 3M, Federal Express, Stanley and Lithonia Lighting—just to name a few.

Our attorneys are experienced in litigating claims resulting from automobile and trucking accidents, premises liability, products liability, construction cases and virtually every form of claim arising from personal injury or property damage. Bovis, Kyle, Burch & Medlin, LLC is equally adept at handling major complex litigation across the country as well as the local, small exposure case.

Bovis, Kyle, Burch & Medlin, LLC lawyers are accustomed to providing cost-effective service, while working toward the right resolution, not just the economic resolution of the claims presented. We engage in carefully planning the defense of every case with our clients by the preparation of legal budgets and periodic, strategic decision analysis of the claims being litigated. This results in each claim being defended with the appropriate number of attorneys with the appropriate level of experience.
